Information Sheet:

¹ All counsel and self-represented litigants shall proceed with diligence to take all steps necessary to bring an action to readiness for trial. When it appears that counsel or a self-represented party is not prosecuting the case with such diligence, the court may impose sanctions, including dismissal of the case after notice and an opportunity to be heard. See L.R. 16.1. The parties must file a motion or joint stipulation to continue trial or other related deadlines. Even if by stipulation or an unopposed motion, the parties must provide sufficient information for the court to find “good cause” for “modifying a schedule.” Fed. R. Civ. Pro. 16(b)(4).

² Unless otherwise permitted by the Court, all discovery pursuant to Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 26 through and including Rule 37 must be completed by the discovery deadline, including all responses to discovery requests.

³ If a consent case settles, parties shall notify chambers as soon as possible. Before the court will vacate all dates and deadlines, counsel and parties proceeding pro se should be prepared to place the material terms of the settlement on the record, by telephone or in person, or submit a settlement agreement or joint letter that sets forth the material terms. An attorney who fails to give the court prompt notice of settlement may be subject to such discipline as the court deems appropriate.

⁵ The parties are directed to Local Rule 16.4(b) for required contents of the pretrial statements.

⁶ Trial-related deadlines will likely differ depending on the trial judge but will include deadlines related to: motions in limine and responses; exchange of witness and exhibit lists; trial briefs, jury instructions, voir dire, deposition designations, the verdict form, and, in a non-jury case, the findings of fact and conclusions of law.
